

NASHVILLE SETS THE TONE

Whether you're interested in music, art, history, food, sports or fashion, Music City will give everyone something to sing about. Nashville is accessible, friendly and authentic, with diverse neighborhoods, a unique musical heritage, and a creative culture throughout the city.

Proudly called Music City, Nashville is home to more than 250 live music venues, each offering a unique experience that will leave you a new fan of many artists from every genre.

Visit the historic Ryman Auditorium, once home to the Grand Ole Opry. The auditorium has hosted artists from Charlie Chaplin and Hank Williams to Jack White and Taylor Swift.

Just steps away, honky tonks line Lower Broadway and showcase live music seven days a week with no cover charge.

Outside of downtown, the Grand Ole Opry is celebrating its 100th anniversary as the world's longest-running radio show. The Grand Ole Opry honors its rich history with a mix of country music legends and contemporary chart toppers.

Nashville draws in a wide range of musical genres in addition to country. Americana, rock, hip hop, bluegrass and more pour out of venues like Ascend Amphitheater, the Station Inn, Rudy's Jazz Room, The Basement East and Marathon Music Works, while the GRAMMY® Award-winning Nashville Symphony fills the Schermerhorn Symphony Center with classical sounds.

Nashville's creativity doesn't just end with music. Local eats range from traditional southern "meat-and-threes" to chef-driven dining with new offerings always coming to town, like Assembly Food Hall at Fifth + Broadway shopping and retail development. Starting on 5th Ave., Upper Broadway is also home to international fine art featured at the Frist Art Museum and more musical history at the National Museum of African American Music. Home to more music museums than anywhere in the world—there's an abundance of history to explore.

A very walkable city, Nashville is home to many open-air green spaces. Dubbed the Athens of the South in the 1800s for its commitment to art and education, Nashville's Centennial Park claims a full-size replica of the Parthenon complete with the 42-ft high statue Athena, the tallest indoor sculpture in the western world.

Getting to and from Nashville International Airport (BNA) has never been easier with the launch of Gray Line Tennessee's airLINE Nashville airport shuttle. The new service will be offered every day from 8am to 8pm with drop offs in Nashville. Round trip tickets start at $25/person.
